

Come run with Team Clarity on August 15, 2010! Help us support women with ovarian cancer. You can sign up here to run for real in San Diego at the America's Finest City Half Marathon and 5K.

Think your city is America's finest? Give San Diego a run for their money with a virtual race on your own page.

Or donate here and just watch the fun.

Team Clarity is running all over America to provide support for our sisters, mothers and friends with ovarian cancer. The Clarity Foundation is improving the care of this challenging cancer by providing comprehensive molecular profiling to all patients, no matter where she is treated, and regardless of whether she can pay. Profile by profile, data point by data point, our vision is to transform treatment by providing physicians with more and better data to make the best treatment choice for their patients and outrun this disease.

Join us on August 15, 2010! Whether you're training for a half-marathon in San Diego, running your own virtual race, or just sipping an iced tea, please support us. Your contribution will go a long way to helping women with ovarian cancer. Please contact mbernabe@clarityfoundation.org for more information or if you need help getting signed up!
